PROJECTS

JungleTrailTours case study Project

Designed and implemented a relational database for a wildlife tour company case study, including UML ERD modeling, schema mapping, and SQL development. Built normalized tables with PK/FK constraints, inserted test data, and executed queries to demonstrate functionality, supported by documentation and a video walkthrough.

Database Systems Coursework- level 5

Part A: Designed a conceptual database schema for Foodz@Yourz, producing UML-based EERD, data dictionaries, and a decision log aligned with business rules. Part B: Mapped the conceptual model into a logical relational schema, documenting mapping decisions and ensuring normalisation, relational integrity, and robust implementation.
